

There isn't a lot of excitement or drama to be had for a teenager in Wasilla, Alaska. This is especially true for students of the charter high school, Lakes Charter. That is until a jock is killed in a brutal attack on school property. The victim is the instigator of the school's bullying ring and his biggest target, both literally at six and a half feet tall and in frequency, is Eli Markham, the lead suspect. The only problem with that story is at the time the murder took place, he was in the school parking lot installing a new battery with Mackenzie Carver. Me. I didn't really know Eli before I gave him a ride. I don't think anyone does know him. He's kind of a loner, but we've been thrown together and the more time I spend with him, the more I want to learn. All of that will have to wait though, because something is after us, something that isn't human, something that keeps trying to frame Eli for crimes he didn't commit. The scheme might be more successful if I didn't keep getting in the way of someone's plans.
