

Major Yahya Effendi was all praise for A Squadron Commander 20 Lancers and described his conduct on 5th December 1971 in following words :-- "The enemy also made a determined effort on 5 December 1971 to break through the right sector. At 2000 hours they closed in on the minefield and A Squadron got involved in an immense tank versus tank engagement. The squadron commanders jeep was destroyed. He was a plucky young officer who put up a fierce resistance and repulsed all attempts of the enemy to get across the minefield." Interestingly Major Abdul Rasheed was not awarded any gallantry award .Not even a mention in despatches. If Effendi had not testified to me in 2008 January , I would never have known this fact. In 2001 I interviewed Major General Tajammul Hussain Malik for Defence Journal and in his interview he revealed as below :-- "My personal experience of both the Indo-Pak wars of 1965 and 1971, has convinced me that it is very difficult to draw a distinction between the fighting capabilities of individuals while engaged in a collective action by giving awards to some and leaving others who had done equally well. In fact this creates more discontentment than fostering harmony amongst comrades in arms. For example, award of Nishan-i-Haider to Aziz Bhatti on Burki Sector was based on a completely fictitious citation. And I can say with confidence that at least eighty percent of the awards in both the wars were completely bogus. In 1971 war I had commanded 205 Brigade in Hilli Bogra Sector. Major Akram, Nishan-i-Haider was in my brigade. That brigade received more than 50 SJs & TJs, the highest number of awards in that war. No one knows better than I do, that those awards were just dished out at random only because I was continuously being pressed from Eastern Command to send the list of gallantry awards. For, my brigade was the only brigade which continued to hold its position to the last days before the ceasefire and when the war ended the fighting was still going on in the streets of Bogra and I had refused to surrender." • TO BE CONTINUED IN VOLUME 61
